Canadian Institute For Blind Carries On Important Work

This week Mons Chapter of the L.O.D.E. are conducting a canvas and tag day in Didsbury for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. The following newspaper release gives you some idea of the work of the institute.

The campaign is being launched in the hope of collecting $25,000 in Central and Southern Alberta. This objective makes up about half the funds spent annually in services to the blind of Southern and Central Alberta in one year. There are an estimated 500 blind in the area covered by the canvass.

Some of the major services offered the blind by the C.N.I.B. are a library located at Toronto, through which Braille and standard books may be borrowed; social services and home teaching; training and placement of blind workers; field services and the opportunity to live in Institute residences and take part in recreational programs; working with pre-school blind children and adapting them to their handicap; and assisting and guiding the parents of these children when needed.

Since the C.N.I.B. received its charter in 1918 from the Dominion government, the blind in Canada have gained two things, training and opportunity to take their place beside other Canadians.

The Institute is the only national service organization for blind Canadians.

The campaign has the approval of the provincial department of health and welfare under the Public Contributions Act passed two years ago.

O.S.A. Notes

Old School of Agriculture and Home Economics

This has been an exceptionally busy summer for the O.S.A. maintenance staff. Under the supervision of Mr. C. L. Belanger, instructor in building construction and in design, our students have been readying the dormitories and classrooms for the school opening on October 21. By skillful use of color dynamics these formerly dull, monotonous, rather drab rooms have been transformed into bright, cheerful places where students will live and work.

In the girls' dormitory a variety of pleasing pastels have replaced the "institution tan" which was previously used for all rooms and corridors. This year's student will find sunny yellow corridors and rooms planned in groups of four so that they go together as a unit.

Perhaps the most outstanding change has taken place in the carpenter and machine shop which has been completely redecorated. In the past little attention was given to color planning with the result that one dull color was used for all walls and trimwork. By introducing color dynamics methods are being faded into the background, stand out individually while moving parts and hand controls can be recognized at a glance.

The machines have been painted to approach as nearly as possible, nature's own green. All moving parts are painted black, while tools are yellow. No time will be lost in searching for switches or electrical outlets for these stand out clearly in bright orange. All fire equipment is placed against a bright red background and natural hazards such as low pipes or projections are highlighted by yellow with black stripes.

This summer's maintenance work is part of a general improvement plan by which all rooms on the campus will be redecorated every three years.

GOVERNMENT FINANCING UPS COSTS

The way we are going about it, we Canadians are likely to be a long time solving our housing problem. One might venture the opinion that, unless we change our ways, we may never solve it.

Our climate and our living habits require a fairly high standard of housing. We can have this if we are willing to save in other things, and to make the necessary efforts to provide it.

We will not be able to have as good houses if we work only five days a week as we would if we worked longer.

Cheap money can be no substitute for productive work in providing suitable housing.

People who work and save and take the trouble to learn the value of things will not pay excessive prices.

But inexperienced people and spendthrifts, who are allowed the use of government credit, are easily persuaded to buy at any price. These people bid prices higher than more prudent buyers deem it wise to pay.

Thus government financing of housing, for those who can't finance their own, will thwart the efforts of many thoughtful citizens to take care of their own housing needs.

This is the weakness of any plan that reduces the down payment on houses below the amount that experience has taught us is safe from the buyer's and seller's point of view.

It raises prices beyond the reach of those responsible citizens who would be likely to complete the payments; and puts the houses in the hands of those who are less likely to do so.

NEW YEAR — SAME PROBLEM

Canada's universities face the same old financial problem this year. Increased grants have been gobbed up by rising costs.

The university enrolment picture which has been changing sharply from year to year since the war, now seems to have reached a pattern of slow, steady decreasing registration which will probably continue until some of the crop of "war babies" reaches university doorsteps, five to 10 years from now, a survey shows.

POWER TAKE-OFF ACCIDENTS

Power take-offs on the farm tractor continue to take a heavy toll on Alberta farms. Recently Jacob Braaten, a Verge, Alberta, boy, was badly injured when his tractors became caught in the power take-off of the swather he was riding. He was badly mangled when dragged into the machine and died a few hours later.

A few days earlier a farmer in the Vulcan district received a broken leg and severe lacerations when his pant cuff caught in the power take-off on his swather.

In the New Dayton district a 16-year-old boy sustained a broken shoulder and a broken arm when he became entangled in the power take-off of a post hole digger.

The power take-off is a dangerous attachment and should never be used unless properly shielded.

CANADIAN INVENTED PRESENT TIME SYSTEM

A Canadian engineer was the inventor of the Standard Time system in use all over the world today. It is pointed out in the new edition of Quick Canadian Facts, the handbook of facts about this country. Sir Sandford Fleming thought the scheme up in 1878 as a device for simplifying the shores of authors and readers of railroad timetables. Until Fleming's scheme was adopted every district or large community in the world operated on its own local mean time and every railroad had its own time system. Canada has seven standard time zones and the difference between the most easterly, Newfoundland, and the most westerly, Yukon, is five and a half hours.

EDUCATION COSTS

There can be no hard-and-fast rule for cutting costs in education. That's the consensus of replies to a Financial Post question.

Teachers, fathers suggested most often, but against that are the recommendations that nothing should be done to lower in any way, our standards of education.

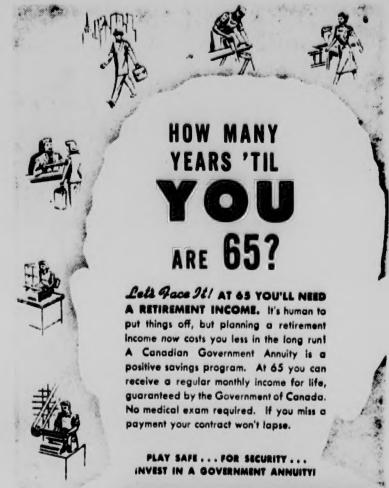

"We have probably been too short-sighted in the salary levels for our teachers and too generous with buildings and equipment," comments one Ontario businessman.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The healing power of spirit through a right sense of the real will be illustrated in Christian Science churches Sunday in a Lesson-Sermon titled "Reality." This example given by Christ Jesus will be presented: "But that ye may know that the Son can hath power over sin, let him forgive sin: then said he unto the sick of the palsy, Arise, take up thy bed, and go into thine house. And he rose, and departed to his house." (Matthew 9: 6, 7.) Also this affirmation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "The man Baled Eddy . . . Jesus healed sickness and sin by one and the same metaphysical process." (p. 210)

In the year ending March 31, 1951, Ottawa paid out in unemployment insurance $90,000,000; in the same year salaries and wages paid out to administrators of the unemployment insurance funds was seventeen million dollars.

Don't forget that whiskey and gasoline make a powerful explosive. If you've had too many, call a cab or a "cop." Either one will drive you home safely; it may be cheaper.

Fish and Game Assoc.
Largely Responsible For Shooting Permits

Following is a circular letter from the Alberta Fish and Game Association which we believe will be of interest to many of our readers:

All started last February at the annual convention of the Alberta Fish and Game Association held in Calgary, when a resolution was passed instructing the executive to explore the possibility of setting up a plan of insurance against duck damage. This insurance was to give protection to farmers against crop damage by ducks, geese and other migratory birds, at a minimum cost and if possible to be operated on a mutual co-operative basis.

In order to carry out such a survey, the first of its kind in North America, it was decided to approach the Alberta Hall Insurance Board and ask them to conduct a survey on behalf of the association to find out if there were enough farmers in Alberta interested in such a plan of insurance. The hall board gladly agreed to do this and through the efforts and co-operation of their 475 agents situated in over 350 villages and towns in Alberta, contact was made with approximately 1,000 farmers.

The survey asked this question: "If a plan of insurance were to be instituted to cover crop damage caused by migratory birds, would you be interested in placing such insurance on your crops?"

The returns on the survey carried out during June, July and early August of this year, were surprising. Most farmers said they would be willing to pay a premium to the hall board. Of this number, well over 2,600 said they would be interested and some less than 6,400 said they were not interested.

We believe, if a suitable plan of insurance can be worked out and put into force, farmers should not be called upon to bear the entire cost. The federal government, the provincial government and lastly, but not leastly, every sportsman who takes out a bird game hunting licence in Alberta should contribute.

The Alberta Fish and Game Association believes that farmers who grow grain crops are entitled to every possible protection against damage by ducks or other migratory birds, and if this is not sufficient, a plan of crop insurance outlined above could be set up that would give them the protection they are entitled to.

The association realized months ago that the tremendous work involved in getting a permit, in the event of a late or delayed harvest, cause great damage. Consequently when the federal authorities at Ottawa a few weeks ago issued a new regulation requesting all farmers who wished to protect their crops before the time of harvest to obtain a permit first of all get a scaring permit before they could get a shooting permit, the association immediately protested strongly. They pointed out that farmers were entitled to take whatever measures were necessary to protect their crops, and that they should be able to obtain a shooting permit immediately if needed.

Largely because of the insistence of the association a new policy was announced whereby the authorities allowed a farmer to call in not more than seven Alberta residents to shoot on his land and protect his crops.

WEEDS AT THRESHING

It is poor business economy to spend large sums of money in chemical or cultural weed control and then neglect the prevention of wild seed production. When operating the combine, the weeds that are separated from the grain should be put into grain-tight bags and disposed of later.

Every combine has equipment which allows the operator to collect the weed seeds either in a small hopper or in a weed-seed-tight bag. These seeds may then be removed from the field, ground up and fed to livestock, or destroyed by burning.

In no case should the weed seeds be piled in the open where they can be scattered by birds, livestock or wind.

Those who are using threshing machines should also take precautions. See that the floors of the bundle wagons are tight, clean all equipment before moving from one setting to another, and clean up the weed seeds from the threshing machine.

Every operator should have as part of his equipment a small broom with stiff bristles to use in sweeping off the threshing machine, combine and bundle racks before moving from one field to another or from one set to the next. This clean-up job can be most important in the prevention of the spread of weed seeds.

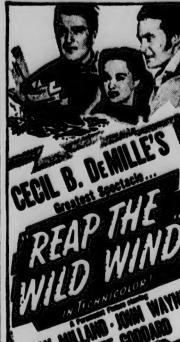

Of the Latin American countries, Brazil is the biggest buyer of Canadian goods.

DISTRICT NEWS*M.V.B.C. News

(From Our Own Correspondent)

The Goods News program featured Mr. Ernest Neufeld as speaker on Sunday, at 7:15 a.m., a graduate of M.V.B.C. He also sings each Sunday, and you will want to hear him. The radio board now has sets of 12 envelopes ready for all those who wish to join the club. $100.00. The club decides to support the radio broadcast and each member sends in one dollar a month — one envelope for each month. Send in for yours today.

Rev. Donald T. Taylor, president of M.V.B.C., has nearly completed his studies in world religions of the United Monitory Christian Church of Alberta. He is anticipating the opening of college and is making much preparation for that day. He and his staff of workers are busy early and late and the students who will be coming will find many important improvements on the campus and buildings when they come.

We have been fortunate to secure the services of two music teachers for piano this coming winter. Mrs. Kirk, A.T.C.M., of Didsbury, and Mrs. Riddle, A.R.C.T., of Carstairs, will spend some time at the college. They will teach the music majors. We are glad to introduce these fine musicians for this coming year.

Several high school students are at home in the college for the winter months: Shirley Shantz, Elma Wiebe and Helen Archer, also Ronald Hayne, Clarke Prendergast, Ray St. John, and others.

Mrs. Soder, Lois and Donald are back again from their tour through the United States. They report a good trip, and visited many places of interest, visiting relatives and renewing old acquaintances. Donald will be leaving for further work at the University of Washington where he will be finishing his Master's degree in engineering.

Provisions of every kind are being brought to the college. Mrs. Habermehl has been more than busy preserving and pickling provisions for the winter months. A fine contribution of 50 chickens will feed for a million birds last week, and a number of the ladies helped to prepare these birds for the locker. We do appreciate all the help that has been given and the hours of labor that some have donated toward the building of shelves and cupboards. Friends in Didsbury have donated crabapples and vegetables.

EISENHOWER VICTORY

VITAL NECESSITY FOR PARTY

Victory by Gen. Eisenhower in the U.S. presidential election this November is a life-and-death necessity for the liberal wing of the Republican party, says Blair Fraser, Ottawa editor of Maclean's, in a recent issue of the magazine.

He pointed out that four times running the Liberal Old Guard has been thwarted in the party's choice of a presidential candidate — once with Wilkie, twice with Dewey, and now with Eisenhower, and three times has seen the party's man go down to defeat by the Republicans. Millions of Americans are waiting for a chance to elect a "real Republican," Fraser thinks that there will be no holding them in future if Eisenhower, too, is beaten.

With America now firmly established as the leader of the Western world an Eisenhower defeat could lead to a political stalemate, either a perpetual Democratic administration of a Republican regime in which men like Col. McCormick and Senator McCarthy would wield great influence.

Fraser says that Eisenhower in the coming election campaign may be able to bridge some of the gaps between the two parties. He should, he says, be exacting the same man the world knew as Gen. Eisenhower.

Mr. Fraser includes these findings in a sharp and thorough look at both the nominating conventions in Chicago and the two men who will fight out the election.
